

GAMETOBER 2023

$5 or Less Horror Challenge

Week One: Horror From the 2010s

Kick Back and revisit the more interesting horrors from the recent past. These games were once big hits, and offer more than one can expect for practically free games!

Cry of Fear

Doki Doki Literature Club!

Sally Face: Episode One

Spooky's Jumpscare Mansion

Week Two: Childlike Horror

Nothing is creepier than the stuff we saw as kids. Well except these games, they just make it worse.

Five Nights At Freddy's

Pony Island

Dark Deception

Paper Lily Prologue

Week Three: Graphically Graphic

I'm not saying these were picked for their graphics, but that may also have been a factor. The games this week pair interesting visual design and music with graphic storytelling to give us some rather horrifying experiences.

Tiny Bunny: Prologue

My Friend is a Raven

The Supper

If On A Winter's Night, Four Travelers

Week Four: Horror With Friends!

For this final week let's gather some of our closest friends and all get scared together. After all, Horror is more fun if you're with others!

Friday the 13th: The Game

PROJECT: PLAYTIME

We Were Here
